New dissatisfaction over sewer policy

New dissatisfaction with practices of the Granite City street department developed during the weekend and is expected to be considered at tonight's City Council meeting.

Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman said Sunday the mixing of raw sewage into stormwater drainage lines appears to be accelerating at Amos and Franklin Avenues.

The alderman said he inspected the area with Street Supt. Lionell Portell and feels the superintendent could take some action to carry raw sewage from the vicinity of a lift station there to the next lift station.

Whether an additional sewer break has occurred is uncertain but sand as well as water and sewage is visible, the alderman related.

At their last meeting on March 24, some alderman south to persuade the street department to remove a sewage outlet pipe that the department had installed in early March at the Nameoki storm ditch near Central Christian Church and Johnson Road.

Chlorination procedure is called hazard

Plans by the Granite City street department to chlorinate the Nameoki storm water drainage ditch and continue using it for raw sewage from an outlet pipe installed by the department in March have been assailed as hazardous.

William Nicholas, a longtime resident and businessman associated with the Horseshoe Lake area, noted that the Nameoki storm ditch leads to the lake.

Nicholas said he wrote last week to Governor Daniel Walker citing the chlorination plan.

He commented, "I am very concerned with the consequences of raw sewage being emptied into land and water which the state has acquired as a state park and is in the process of developing as such, using both state and federal funds."

"Such treatment is merely turning the area in a cesspool. Treating the effluent with chlorine in itself would constitute a hazard to the remaining fish and wildlife left after years of other wastes."

"We will probably end up with a biological desert instead of a state park. This action makes a mockery of all state and federal laws, and the Environmental Protection Agency on all levels should hang its head in shame."

"I have been reading in recent months of the City of East St. Louis pumping raw sewage into Frank Holten State Park and realize that it is already a cesspool of gigantic size, and I have read of the $8 million being squandered on developing it further as a state park or cesspool (take your choice)."

"But it is beyond comprehension to see the State of Illinois allowing Granite City to do the same thing and at the same time telling the public that it is a state park development and that this area will be people's new recreation area (or sewage lagoon) to use as they see fit for boating, swimming, fishing, etc."

"What is even more incredible is to have an engineer of the EPA allowing the sewage to be treated with chemicals before emptying it into the lake, and advising to post warning signs of the potential health hazard to children who live and play nearby."

"The problem of breaking sewers is not a new one and should have been dealt with years ago by replacement of the same at Granite City instead of constant repairs and patching," Nichols commented.

"For God's sake let's get some of the agencies involved and correct these problems before it is too late."

School and college candidates to speak

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an open forum for Granite City School District candidates and also candidates for the Belleville Area College board at the Coolidge Junior High School Cafeteria, 3231 Nameoki Road, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The three School District No. 9 candidates for two board posts April 12 are Thomas G. Mifsky, 3135 Colgate Place, L. Monroe Worthen, 2845 Fortune Drive, and Stanley Welch, 3877 Rodney St.

The twelve BAC candidates for three board positions are Edward O'Malley, 44 Glenview Drive, Belleville, Mearl J. Justus, 106 W. 3rd St., Cahokia, John A. Becker, 1108 Norwood Drive, Sparta, E. J. Kane, 32 Signal Point, Belleville, Richard Shilliday, RR 1, Box 72, Waterloo, William L. Gushleff, 1671 Fourth St., Madison, Guy T. DeChiara, 301 N. Wilson Heights Drive, Collinsville, Arno V. Spensman, 1080 Ruth St., RR 2, Granite City, Stephen P. Wilburn, 516 Freeburg Ave., Belleville, Deanna R. Wegmann, 520 E. McKinney, Belleville, Russell H. Classen, 301 W. Washington St., Freeburg, and Leo Seitz, 508 St. Lucy, Cahokia.

"Since this is the first time Quad-City residents have had an opportunity to vote for Area College board members, it should be an interesting forum," a Chamber spokesman said.

"Each candidate will be given time to make his presentation, following which there will be ample time for questions from the floor. All local residents are being urged to attend."

With the demand for steel tapering off after more than two years of sustained high production, plant operations at Granite City Steel are moving to a lower level and some temporary layoffs will be necessary, Howard M. Love, president, says in a letter which has been mailed to all employees.

Love said there has been "a sharp decline in orders" because consumers are using up large inventories of steel mill products they had previously accumulated. He added that the steel industry "is expected to feel the worst of the recession during the second quarter, the three months we are now beginning. We should make every effort to operate with maximum efficiency and productivity."

Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corporation, is the largest steel plant in the St. Louis region and has approximately 5,000 employees. President Love wrote that he did not want "to make things sound worse than they are. True, some of our markets are very slow these days. However, other steel-using markets remain fairly strong."

"Management at Granite City Steel is doing everything possible to maintain our production with orders from the stronger parts of the economy."

Love also told Granite City Steel's employees that "the long-range outlook for the steel industry is good, although there will undoubtedly be occasional periods of relatively low demand like the present."

"Steel consumption both in the U.S. and abroad is expected to grow steadily. And there is not presently enough steelmaking capacity either planned or under construction to meet demand like the present."

Tax relief checks mailed by state— average is $197

The first tax relief checks to help the state's senior and disabled citizens offset property tax bills from 1974 are in the mail, Illinois Revenue Director Robert H. Alphin announced Friday.

The average amount of the checks is $197, an increase of 23 per cent over the average circuit breaker grant last year. Alphin said the revenue department, which administers the "Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Tax Relief Act"—commonly called the "Circuit Breaker Law"—has authorized payments to 27,200 senior and disabled persons who rented their Illinois residences in 1974.

He also said the department is processing 22,000 more applications, part of the 75,000 circuit breaker claim forms mailed to renters in the first week of February. The department this year mailed an application to any renter who had applied previously for a grant.

Response to the circuit breaker program will be up this year, Alphin predicted. He said changes in the law, adopted by the legislature and signed by Gov. Dan Walker in September, "are apparently doing what they were intended to do. The nearly 50,000 applications we've received in the eight weeks since we distributed the first forms indicate that many people will be applying this year," Alphin said.

"Out of the 27,000 applications we have now processed, fewer than two per cent did not qualify. The grants we've processed so far this year are about 23 per cent higher than last year's, with the average at about $197. The average at this time last year was $156, and the average overall for the year was about $158."

The director said the revenue department will mail about 150,000 applications within the

Seek notable state mothers

The American Mothers Committee is making a statewide survey of the role of notable mothers in the history of the state, past and present. The state survey is part of the American Mothers Committee's national bicentennial project "Discover America's Historic Mothers Past and Present."

Participating in the project are all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower is honorary chairman.

"We are asking the help of every citizen of our state, civic officials, librarians, school teachers and historical societies," said Mr. Homer W. Alvey of Lincoln, Illinois, president for the American Mothers Committee.

The names of mothers and their stories should be sent to: Felicia D. Koch, M.D., 1821 Edison Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040. Dr. Koch is serving as the statewide American Mothers bicentennial project chairman.

The selected stories of the state mothers will be screened by a jury and compiled in a state booklet for presentation to each governor. The state history of mothers also will be included in a national report from the American Mothers Committee, to be made public in Washington in 1976.

Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, New York City, honorary president of the American Mothers Committee, Inc., is national chairman of the bicentennial project. Mrs. Mary Fisher Lohr, also of New York City, is American Mothers Committee president.

Women plan events at Suburban

Several activities planned in April and May were reviewed at the Baptist Women's meeting held Thursday evening at Suburban Baptist Church. The prayer and mission action groups convened prior to the general session.

Mrs. Anita Fisher, Women's Missionary Union director, said reservations currently are being accepted for a WMU convention, scheduled Friday and Saturday at the First Baptist Church in West Frankfort.

Mrs. Joan Fisher, president, led the business meeting, and Mrs. Florence Petrovich gave a report from an earlier session. Committees were formed to arrange details for a mother and daughter tea in May, and volunteers were sought to serve as adult leaders of the Acteens group.

Members planning to attend the WMU association salad supper April 17 at Pleasant Ridge Baptist Church, Collinsville, should meet at Suburban Church before the 6 p.m. departure time, Mrs. Fisher said.

Mrs. Georgetta Monical, Mission Action Group leader, announced the spring project will focus on making shawls for patients at the Madison County Nursing Home.

Mrs. Jackie Harding, wife of Chaplain Charles Harding of the Granite City Army Installation, presented a program of slides taken in Europe where she and her husband previously resided. The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Sharon Purkey.

Mrs. Ursula Cook gave the call to prayer and read the Scripture lesson taken from Romans 2:1-11.

Mrs. Monical and Mrs. Cook served a dessert course to those named and to Mrs. Mesdames Mary Charlton, Ruby McFalls, Helen Stanfill, Ruth Goodman, Judy Worley and Mary Lou Summers.

Soloist Keith Curtis, accompanied by Audrey Cormier, sang several selections.

Other elected officers included: Betty Griz, noble prophetess; Lloyd Lewis, associated watchman of shepherds; Ann Mueller, scribe; Florence Spohr, treasurer; Dorothy Evans, chaplain; Mary Petrosian, shepherdess and Thema Prevett, guide.

Emmet Carraher, Charles McCollum, James Stubbfield, John Simpson, Alfred Woodward, John DeHart and Richard Lanham, king's guards.

Twenty-four past worthy high priestesses and watchmen of shepherds formed a circle as the retiring top officers, Mrs. Mary Ann DeHart and Delbert McKissick, were escorted to the altar to sign the Bible. John DeHart presented his wife with her past priestess jewel and Oco Wood gave McKissick his past watchman's jewel.

Mrs. Hickey and Johnson spoke briefly, noting that a "busy year is ahead with many programs and projects of interest to all members currently being planned." Both introduced their family members.

The closing benediction was given by the Rev. Wilbur L. Lear of St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church.

Immediately following the ritual, a reception was held in the dining room. Blue cloths and silver net, trimmed with tiny red roses, covered the serving table. The centerpiece of red roses and candles was arranged between two statues.

Guest tables were covered with red, white and blue cloths and centered with large red candles.

On Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Gabriel Shrine will meet at the Masonic Temple to honor the immediate past officers, Mrs. DeHart and McKissick, it was announced.

St. Peter's Guild hears review

Sixty-five members and guests attended the afternoon Guild meeting in Fellowship Hall of St. Peter United Evangelical Church of Christ Thursday.

A salad smorgasbord was served at 12 noon from tables attractively decorated with spring flowers.

The guest speaker was Dottie Miller of Webster Groves, Mo., who reviewed her book "Around the World in 90 Beds."

She vividly recalled the agonies and the joy of traveling around the world with her husband, Dr. Alan O. Miller, who was on a year's sabbatical leave from his teaching position at Eden Theological Seminary in St. Louis.

Mrs. Pauletta Mueller conducted the business meeting and members were reminded of the May Fellowship Day to be held at St. John's United Church of Christ on Friday, May 2, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Jo Meyer, beautification chairman, said the trees will be sold outside Schnuck's Market in Crossroads Shopping Center, 3801 Namecki Road, and at the First National Bank in Madison, 600 Madison Ave.

A total of 100 Dortha Flowering Crabapple trees will be available, each costing $3.50. Mrs. Meyer said. The trees are about five feet tall and will attain a height of 25 feet.

Orders will be accepted in advance of this weekend's sale by calling the Chamber office, at 876-4400.

The tree sale is designed as a community-wide beautification program and not as a profit-making project, Mrs. Meyer noted.

Mrs. Raymond Horn, program chairman, introduced those displaying their hobbies. An extensive collection of dolls belonging to Mrs. G. E.

Filoff, many acquired during her ten trips to Europe, was of special interest. Also among the items exhibited were antique pictures created of human hair.

Mrs. Emmett L. Beeler, a member, read the club collect and the pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Bonard Maples.

The group sang "Were You There," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edward F. Reiske.

Mrs. Marvin Edgington announced plans for the annual guest day program, scheduled May 15 in the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation. A resume concerning activities at the Madison County Federation of Women's Club meeting held the previous day was given by Mrs. E. H. Theis.

Attending with Mrs. Theis were Coterie members, Mrs. Floyd Henley, Mrs. James E. Fox, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Edgington, Mrs. Horn, Mrs. Alfred Pape and Mrs. Beeler.

The latter serves as county federation president. An election of officers is planned at the Coterie's April 17 meeting at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Walker urges Route 3 blacktop, calls for legislature to approve

In an effort to put added pressure on the Illinois legislature to pass his proposed accelerated building program, Governor Daniel Walker held a news conference at the railroad tracks just south of the A. O. Smith Corp. plant on Illinois Route Three here today.

He outlined extensive highway improvements, saying they are subject to General Assembly action on the ABP plan.

"I have asked news people and public officials to look at this twelve-mile stretch of Illinois 3 as an example of why our accelerated building program is vitally needed. The road from Granite City to East St. Louis should be resurfaced and made safer to handle the large volume of traffic and to prevent accidents," the governor said.

"There were 309 accidents on this section in the first 11 months of last year. Four were fatal. There were 392 accidents there before.

"Under the ABP, we plan to put three inches of blacktop on Route 3 from West Pontoon Road in Granite City to Interstate 55 at East St. Louis."

"Highway signs will be moved back from the road to increase the margin of safety, and mailbox turnouts will be widened."

"If the legislature moves on this quickly, we can actually have these Route 3 improvements out for bids this summer," Walker emphasized.

"The program includes more resurfacing road work in Granite City; East 23rd Street, Illinois 162, Illinois 203."

"And in Alton and Wood River—Illinois 140, Illinois 3, U.S. 67."

"These and other nearby projects would cost over $13 million and provide wages of at least $3 million, much of which would be spent in this area."

"Frankly, I need your help in getting these programs through the legislature. If you believe as I do that these projects are needed, please let your state representatives and senators know your views this week," the governor said.

Venice Mayor William M. Ebersold responded, "We in this area, and Venice in particular, are vitally interested in getting the Broadway relocation project finished. This also affects both Illinois Route 3 and the Great River Road. We are also faced with a possible $130,000 dewatering bill. You help us with this and get it on your accelerated program?"

Walker replied, "I am familiar with the FA Route 151 program and it is on our list, but I can't tell you just where."

State Rep. Horace Calvo asked about getting a railroad overpass built in Granite City due to dangerous conditions at various crossings.

"I won't try and kid you, Horace. When you talk about overpasses, you have to deal with both the Department of Transportation and the Commerce Commission. We'll try and move on it, but it will take time," Walker said.

Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City said, "We are having many expensive sewer problems, and we would appreciate your help in getting us some state or federal funding."

"We have a problem with this, Mr. Mayor, in that it will involve the federal government, and our accelerated building program is aimed at state projects that won't get bogged down in red tape, if the legislature approves," Gov. Walker replied.

The governor left here to make several other brief stops in behalf of the accelerated program, which includes bond financing.

Assault charge

Authorities arrested Don K. Dummitt, 18, of 3011 Drive, Pontoon Beach, at 12:45 a.m. Friday, charging him with assault, after a disturbance at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

Dummitt later was released from custody after posting $50 cash bail. Bob Gaughan, 2105 Amos Ave., was found bleeding about the face.

Murder indictments against 3

Jasper Glenn, 16, Carl Wayne Wilson, 18, and Ronnie Lee Cunningham, 17, all of East St. Louis, were being held without bond today in the St. Clair County Jail at Belleville on charges related to the murder of George Horvat, 62, East St. Louis, and the torture and beating of his wife and son Feb. 13.

Glenn, Wilson and Cunningham were indicted by a St. Clair grand jury Friday.

Mrs. Laura Horvat, 60, is a special education teacher at Wilson School and Mr. Horvat formerly was an insurance agent in Granite City. He died about seven hours after being severely beaten.

They and their son, Joseph, 35, were cut, beaten, kicked and tortured for about two hours in their East St. Louis home. Four youths had knocked on the front door and then forced their way in when the door was opened.

The three in custody were indicted on charges of murder, armed robbery and two counts of aggravated battery. A fourth youth has not been charged. Glenn has been certified to stand trial as an adult.

Cunningham also was indicted on charges of aggravated battery and armed robbery in connection with the robbery and beating of Mrs. Virginia Holcomb, 85, East St. Louis. She alleges three men broke into her home and tied her and her three sons before leaving in the Holcomb's station wagon.

No date has been set for the trials.

Assembly this year, it is hoped to end submission of legislation after April 12.

Gov. Walker last week proposed legislation banning home mortgage "red lining" in which entire neighborhoods are excluded as bad financial risks.

The financially hard-pressed Rock Island Railroad decided Thursday against imposing a temporary $30 per carload surtax on shippers.

Norton Kay, Gov. Walker's press secretary, credits the governor with helping elect three mayors last week—William Mason of East St. Louis, William Bland of Champaign and David Palmer of Danville.

Surveys indicate Americans plan to increase their present spending level for small goods.

Ray Sonnenberg, former

Collinsville High School and St. Louis University athlete who is now a National Football League official, will address the Breakfast Kiwanis Club on Thursday.

A seminar on water pollution for owners of sewage and wastewater treatment facilities will be held by the state at 2 p.m. April 30 at Belleville Area College.

William Gushieff of Madison, a candidate for the Belleville Area College board, last week received the endorsement of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council.

Mrs. Mildred Adams, 2825 Denver St., received five write-in votes for alderman of the Fifth Ward in the election of Granite City Council members April 1. Walter Noon won reelection in that ward.

Gary Novich, a candidate for Third Ward alderman in the Madison city election April 15, says he is not satisfied with the latest ballots which have been printed. The first specimen ballots listed the candidates' names horizontally; Novich, the first to file, objected because his name was not at the top. The ballots were reprinted in a vertical column, but Novich said the new ballots like the Third Ward at the top and the Fifth Ward in the certification at the bottom.

Madison-Venice Rotary Club celebrates 50th anniversary

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff-Writer

Fifty years of Rotarianism in Madison were celebrated Thursday evening at the Granite City Army Installation with a dinner, program and dance attended by 100 Rotarians and wives.

For the first 49 years, the group was known as the Madison Rotary Club, but it then voted to change the name to the Madison-Venice Rotary Club. The new name became official this year.

Following the invocation by the Rev. E. Stanley Howlett, the group enjoyed a buffet dinner. Rotarian Leo Schermer acted as master-of-ceremonies for the evening.

Dr. Frank Brooks, of Chillicothe, Ill., governor of Rotary District 646, told the club, "Our international Rotary theme this year is 'renew the spirit of Rotary' and there is little doubt in my mind that the Madison-Venice Rotary club has a bright future."

Rotarian Schermer introduced Bernard Miller Sr., the last surviving charter member and first secretary of the club, and two past district governors in attendance, Ernest E. Tosovsky of Edwardsville and Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. of Granite City.

Dr. Wilkins, in addition to being a past district governor, is also a past president of the Madison Rotary Club.

A special tribute was paid by the club to Mrs. Valerie Stevens, who plays the piano for group singing every Wednesday noon when the club meets at the Madison Recreation Center. She frequently presents musical programs featuring students from Madison schools.

Rotary President John Blasingame welcomed Valter Milton, president of the Granite City Club, and thanked the Granite City Rotary for not only helping the Madison group get started 50 years ago, but for "the continuing fine relationship between the two clubs."

"I am proud to recognize you here tonight who almost single-handedly doubled our club's active membership and that is Rotarian Ray Edwards," Blasingame said.

"I asked Ray to become membership chairman and I have never seen a man take on a chairmanship with such vigor. We wanted 50 members by tonight and Ronald Graywacz was inducted Jan. 29 as our 50th member. Ray has done a truly outstanding job."

"No man deserves to be more honored and long remembered than the late E. A. Friedman, known as Mammie by all his many friends," Rev. Howlett said.

"Mammie proved that business and philanthropy can be brought together in a thing called love."

"In the Depression, he fed hundreds of people every day, and his humanitarian deeds have become legend in our area."

"Too few people living today inspire others to do as much good as did Mr. Friedman, and it would be a crime if our area ever forgets the things he did and the help and advice he gave the people who knew and respected him."

SURPRISE TRIBUTE. A surprise tribute to Mrs. Valerie Stevens, third from left, who was described by Leo Schermer, master-of-ceremonies, as "our own Rotary Ann." Mrs. Stevens for a number of years has played the piano for Madison-Venice Rotarians and frequently has had her students present musical programs for the club members. Mrs. Stevens is chatting with Rotarian Alex Schenckhoff and his wife, Agnes. Her husband, City Clerk Robert W. Stevens of Granite City, is partially visible at the lower right.

"The Madison-Venice Rotary club has created in honor of this truly great man an award to be known as the 'E.A. Friedman Humanitarian Award' to be given each year, beginning here tonight, to a person from the Madison-Venice area who has made a significant contribution, without thought of personal gain, to the general welfare of the people of the area," Rev. Howlett said.

The award was then presented to Miss Alice Purdes, who lives in Madison and teaches the fifth grade in Venice. Tribute to Miss Purdes was paid regarding her efforts in helping the youth of the area, both in and out of the classroom.

It was related that she has frequently helped troubled students, often buying clothing when seeking a child in need. She has even saved lives, pulling a child from in front of a moving car and helping another who was bent on suicide, the gathering was told.

Her late father, Joseph Purdes, was president of the Madison Rotary in 1960.

Past District Governor Ken Evers spoke to the club on the past 50 years of Rotary international.

Following the benediction by a Rotarian, the Rev. Ellis Seals, the club enjoyed dancing to the music of the "The Starlighters."

Nominations planned by Catholic Charities

Appointments were made at a Quad-Cities Catholic Charities board of directors meeting held last week at the agency office, 202 Delmar Ave., with Board President Robert Pare presiding.

The opening prayer was offered by the Right Rev. Msgr. William J. Cassin, director.

A report showed Catholic Charities aided 618 cases in 1974.

Of this total, 95 were children's cases, 76 family cases, 88 mobile meals, 294 emergency financial assistance cases, 16 unwed parents and 41 adoptive homes.

A revision of the 1975 budget was explained to the board, based on a $39,348 allocation received from the United Way.

Pare related to the board information received pertaining to a Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville survey team questionnaire being prepared for the Tri-Cities United Way to send to area residents for opinions on United Way agencies.

Dr. Frank Bellipanni was appointed nominating chairman for new members, and Pare, as nominating chairman for 1975-76 officers. Mrs. Mary Alyce Beardslee, Catholic Charities adoption worker, spoke on "Adoption Procedures."

Others present were Mrs. Margaret Lee, Mrs. Lorraine Parkinson, Mrs. Corrine Kreher, Miss Mary Ann Menemeyer, Henry Helrich and John Zotti.

The annual meeting of the Catholic Charities board of directors will be held on May 12.

Confectionery is burglarized

About $50 was stolen from a cash register and an undetermined amount of change, cigarettes and candy were stolen during a burglary at Ware's Confectionery, 319 W. 2nd St., Madison, which was reported at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

The front door was pried open to gain entry. Two pinball machines were pried open and change boxes removed. One was found in an alley between the 800 blocks of Jackson and Webster streets in Madison.

Faster use of new park sites proposed

SPRINGFIELD — More public lands will be put into use sooner all over Illinois, and in more finished condition, under the state Conservation Department's expanded capital improvement budget as part of the governor's proposed accelerated building program, if legislative approval is forthcoming.

Conservation Director Tony Dean has announced that the department will have nearly double the funds available for capital improvement for the next fiscal year, compared to this year's total, if the spending program is okayed by the General Assembly.

The fiscal '75 appropriation was $38,940,100. The proposed fiscal '76 budget would be up by 34 percent, to $51,182,700, Dean said.

Projects all over the state were included in the planning. For northeastern Illinois these would include sewer line installation at Seaboard Woods in Grundy County; site development and landscaping of an interpretive center at Goose Lake Prairie, also in Grundy County; restoration of newly acquired land, installation of an emergency generator, campground development and development of day-use areas in the north zone, all at Illinois Beach in Lake County; trail and site development along the Illinois-Michigan canal in LaSalle, Grundy and Will counties; day use area development at Kankakee River State Park in Kankakee and Will counties; third phase development of Lake Defiance in McHenry County; and site development at Shabbona State Park in DeKalb County.

Planned improvements range from restoring rip-rapping on levees to construction of bathhouses and bathing beaches, and restoration of several historic structures in state parks or memorials.

Originally, only 20 projects around the state had been scheduled for development in the next fiscal year. The possibility of the additional money being requested by the governor as a recession-fighting method has made it possible for the Department of Conservation to add 35 additional projects, while in almost all cases greatly increasing the amounts available to be spent on the originally scheduled developments.

Raceway is selected for 2nd national race

St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison has been selected by the American Hot Rod Association as the first Midwest racing facility ever to host two Grand American Series drag races in one year, AHRA President Jim Tice, announced Friday.

Tice said the track has been selected to host the $100,000 Spring Nationals race May 30 and 31 and June 5 as well as the traditional Gateway Nationals Aug. 1, 2 and 3.

Both races are among the 10 Grand American Series of Professional Drag Racing held throughout the country to select national champions in each racing class.

Tice said it was selected for the Spring Nationals "because of its facilities which make it able to hold a race of this size and image, and also because of its geographic location centered in the middle of the United States — making it easier for the racers, as well as for the fans who attend this prestigious event."

The race track, located on Route 203 north of Interstate 70, conducts weekly Sunday feature race programs and conducts "grudge racing" events each Wednesday and Saturday night.

'Y' tennis classes

The Tri-City Area YMCA will be offering tennis classes for the spring session April 14 through May 31.

Don Hornberger will be the instructor. He operates the East-West Regional Tennis Program, which covers a territory of six counties.

His tennis training comes from Dennis Vander Meir of Tennis America University and the National Tennis Teachers' Institute.

Hornberger also served as coach of the SIUE tennis team for two years. He will be using the latest in techniques for the classes; equipment such as ball machines, stroke masters and video-tape will be used to work on each phase.

A daytime class will be offered Tuesdays from 2 to 4 p.m. for adults.

Classes on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 will be open to adults aged 17 and older. A children's class for ages 11 to 16 will be offered on Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

All classes will be seven weeks in length and consist of a two-hour session on each of seven areas of the sport.

Cost for the course will be $7.50 for "Y" members and $20 for non-members.

Registration will be open April 7 through April 12. More information is available at the "Y", 2001 Edison Ave., or 876-7200.

Record pole vault by Bell

Former Granite City High School track and field standout Dave Bell sparred 14-3 in the pole vault to break a school record and help pace the Harding College Bisons to first place in a four-team track meet this spring.

Harding is located at Searcy, Ark. Bell's victory provided six points as the Bisons won 78-76 over the defending Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference track champions, Ouachita Baptist University.

The victory was the Bisons' first in the outdoor season. Finishing behind Ouachita were the University of Arkansas at Monticello, 58, and Henderson

State University, 45.

The vault eclipsed the standard of 14 feet at Harding, a feat which head coach Ted Lloyd feels "will lead to bigger and better things." The old record was set by Jerry Evans in 1971, topping an earlier vault of 13-5.

"I think Dave is beginning to come into his own and I believe he will make a lot more improvement before the conference finals in May," Lloyd commented. Bell, a junior physical education major at the college, is a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell of Granite City.

48 to vie for 2 places in national bowling tourney

April 12 will be a lucky day for two Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl league bowlers.

Tony Sodi, manager, reports that Saturday has been selected as the rolloff date for all of his center's monthly winners. A total of 48 men and women bowlers will compete for a three-day trip to Washington D.C. May 23, 24, 25 to the finals of Brunswick's 10th annual "Bow your way to Europe" international tournament.

Rolloffs at Brunswick Tri-Mor, 3701 Nameoki Road, will begin at 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Each bowler will roll three games across six lanes. The man and woman knocking down the most pins over their average in a single game will be declared the champions and will represent the local center in the national finals.

Sodi said the two local entries will be competing against 444 bowlers from all over the U.S. and Canada for an all-expense-paid trip to Europe.

Local woman is hurt by youths

Ethel McReynolds, 80, of 2808 Edwards St., was hurt after four boys approached her as she got out of her car in front of her home at 6:10 p.m. Friday. One of the boys pushed her down and grabbed her purse.

She said the four boys approached her and asked when a bus was supposed to pass. One asked her for a quarter and she recalled telling the boy she was short of quarters.

The boy then said he had to have a quarter and grabbed her purse, pushing her down. The boys then dropped the purse and fled.

Police notified four boys running nearby and stopped them. The victim alleged they were the same four who approached her.

The boys, aged 13 and 14, were referred to Granite City juvenile authorities for possible action. Three reside in Kirkpatrick Homes and the other lives in the 2800 block of Edwards St.

Officers found the victim on her hands and knees, unable to get up, with a cut to her lip and abrasions to her forehead and left knee. Her purse was intact by her feet.

THE CASE FOR NIBBLING

Snacking is a reality of life these days—and in one sense it may be a blessing in disguise. "Anyone who is overweight—or especially anyone who feels that snacking causes overweight—will look askance as I say that. But I am not talking about snacking in order to regulate eating. I'm thinking of snacking, or nibbling, as the new pattern for eating."

"Periodicity of eating," as the scientists like to call it, is a fairly new area of research. But snacking is a habit in almost every household.

A MARKET RESEARCH study has shown that at-home eating is "moving toward the serving of fewer food items and more so-called convenience foods."

Eating is less formal in the home. Seventy-five percent of all at-home meals (in the survey households) were eaten in the kitchen or an adjoining area. Meal-skipping is increasing. Lunch is the meal most often missed.

SNACKING IS UP. In fact, according to the survey, the average person has six to seven "food contacts" per day and heavy snackers (usually 25 to 44) have up to 20 food "contacts" per day. Men stuff themselves, especially at the evening meal, and at bed-time.

But suppose people snacked, or nibbled some six meals a day or more, but they were small meals.

and really nutritious foods that offer high quantities of nutrients at reasonable calorie levels?

THERE IS RESEARCH, reported in Nutrition Today by researchers Gilbert Leveille, Ph.D., and Dale R. Rossom, Ph.D., of Michigan State University, that indicates that the taking of "three square meals" a day is associated with overweight.

Psychological torture damages children too

By DOROTHY CRUYDER

CHICAGO—Did you know there are six recognized forms of child abuse?

This is a point social workers and psychologists who have helped form Parents Anonymous wanted brought out since more people think of child abuse in physical terms.

The six are physical abuse, physical neglect, sexual abuse, verbal abuse, emotional abuse and emotional neglect.

Physical abuse is described as "any injury to a child other than injury sustained accidentally," that is, willful cruelty and applied trauma.

Parents Anonymous, a self-help group for child abusers, goes along with this description but they also include the attitude of the abuser.

They believe that when a parent physically handles the child in such a way that the handling is used only as a means of venting the parent's anger, with no intent to discipline, then it is physical abuse.

"One slap in this case can be as abusive as a broken arm, if the attitude on the part of the parent is abusive."

The difference in the degree of trauma to the child may simply lie in the degree of abusive attitude on the part of the adult, and may in some cases be only a degree of control or degree of strength, they say.

Physical neglect is the lack of proper food, clothing, medical care or attention to hygiene.

"Imagine the baby whose hands were so crusted with dirt that he couldn't move his fingers," pointed out one social worker. "That is a sad symbol of the extent parental neglect can reach."

vided neither negative nor positive environment for the child. The child is shown no feeling, neither anger nor warmth. He never is struck nor is he ever held closely.

He is neither hated nor loved—it's as if he doesn't exist. The only positive message he gets from the parent is the one that says, "don't bother me with your life."

This form of abuse may not be as prevalent, but certainly it is as damaging as the others. The child who is treated like a nothing grows to regard himself as a nothing, a zero.

Parents Anonymous, the crisis intervention program, doesn't claim to be the only alternative, but it is one way to prevent child abuse, she said.

The first chapter was formed about five years ago in California by a woman who had been an abused child as well as an abusive parent.

Since then over 150 chapters have been formed in the United States.

Each is a nonprofit autonomous group with no agency affiliation.

Members remain anonymous, but they can call on one another for help before, during, or after child abuse happens.

In the program parents have an opportunity to share their feelings with others who are experiencing the same problem.

Although a professional counselor may act as a consultant to the group, the group leader always is a parent with experience of abuse, so members can identify with him or her in a more personal way.

Physical abuse has shown children are neglected and abused in every race, economic status and social class.

Physical neglect is the lack of proper food, clothing, medical care or attention to hygiene.

"Imagine the baby whose hands were so crusted with dirt that he couldn't move his fingers," pointed out one social worker. "That is a sad symbol of the extent parental neglect can reach."

Three running for two GC School Board posts

MONROE WORTHEN

L. Monroe Worthen, 41, a member of the Granite City Board of Education for the past 15 years, is a candidate Saturday for a sixth three-year term.

An accountant, he is employed in Clayton by Oliver W. Schneider, certified public accountant.

Worthen resides at 2845 Fortune Drive with his wife, Toby, and their son, Cory, 17, and daughter, Elizabeth, 14.

The candidate commented to the Press-Record that he favors "thorough analysis and review of the central administrative structure of the school district." Worthen adds that it might be appropriate to "reassign and re-allocate some of the duties and responsibilities, to achieve some immediate savings and larger long-range savings."

"I also favor research into teaching methods in the hope of coping with the pattern of cost increases and relatively stable income."

"Many school systems have encountered severe financial problems. While the Granite City district has largely avoided serious economic problems, it is clear that all school districts will need to continue to evaluate their instructional procedures," Worthen is treasurer of the school district. He has held that position for six years and served as board president for three years.

Born in Murphysboro, Worthen has resided here since he was of grade school age.

Attending public schools here, he graduated from Granite City High School. He holds a bachelor of science degree in finance from St. Louis University. Formerly in the Elks and of St. Peter's United Church of Christ.

THOMAS MIOSKY

Granite City School Board candidates Saturday include Thomas George Miosky, 3135 Colgate Place.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, the candidate is 27 and is employed by Collinsville School District No. 10 as director of learning achievement centers.

"My primary concerns are the children of our community and all the citizens," Miosky told the Press-Record.

"I will work to constantly voice our school needs, to upgrade our educational system, to improve our vocational program and to be a dedicated policymaker."

"My ideas and views have not changed from last year," when he also was a candidate for the Granite City Board of Education.

Miosky added, "My hope is that the citizens will express themselves in this important election."

"I can only say that I will do my best to make the right decisions in forming district policies."

Unmarried, the candidate is engaged to be married in July. A graduate of St. Louis University with a bachelor of science degree in biology and chemistry, he will receive the degree of master of science in education this June from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He attended Granite City schools.

He has been working in the field of education for the past five years with children of all ages.

A member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Miosky is a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

He has a background in school law and school finance, and in 1970 worked in an experimental education project in Guatemala. He has been associated with private schools that deal with special learning problems of children.

STAN WELCH

Stan Welch, 27, of 3877 Rodney Drive, is one of three candidates for two positions on the Granite City Board of Education in Saturday's election.

A resident of Granite City for the past seven years, Welch grew up in Springfield, Ill., a graduate of Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville, he has a bachelor degree in history and government.

After graduation in 1969, he served in the Marine Corps, from which he was honorably discharged.

Welch then returned to Granite City, where he was employed by Granite City Steel as a sales representative.

He later left the steel firm to open his own business, Welch's Custom Tailors, Inc., located at 210 N. 9th St. in downtown St. Louis.

Since opening his own business, Welch has been actively involved in community service organizations. He is a member of both the St. Louis Jaycees and the Downtown Lions Club, in which he has held positions of responsibility.

He also has been active in Granite City Park District recreational programs.

During the last seven years, he has been a manager in the boys' baseball league and a player and a coach in the church softball and basketball leagues.

Welch is a member of the Nameoki Presbyterian Church and serves as superintendent of Christian Education.

His primary goals are:

(1) "To make the Board of Education more open and responsive to the wishes of the public, parents and teachers."

(2) "To support the stronger educational programs in the schools."

(3) "To have an efficient school administration."

"The school board has been a closed and secretive group far too long," he says. "How can people who have the right to know really find out what is going on in their schools if the board will not talk about 'issues'?"

"If a board member were asked, 'What problems face the local schools today?', his answer would be, 'The schools have no problems; they have achieved perfection.'"

"The board just does not let issues surface. This is the way it is."

"With an attitude like this, how do people learn 'where' and 'why' their tax dollars are being spent?"

"I will work for a school board more open and responsive to the wishes of the public,"

South spring concert will be tomorrow

Seven choruses of the Granite City High School South vocal music department will perform at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the GCHS South auditorium in the school's annual spring concert.

Mrs. Mary Ann Bright is director of the production, which is open to the public. Admission is 35 cents per person.

The choruses, their size and selections are as follows:

Madrigals, 18 students — "Bridge Over Troubled Water," "The Way We Were," "Yesterday — Michelle," "What the World Needs Now" and "Stranger in Paradise."

Contando, 50 students — "All My Trials," "Summer Knows," theme from "Summer of 42," "Daisy Bell" and "The Look of Love."

Boys' Chorus — 20 students — "Joy to the World," "Rainy Days and Mondays," "Time in a Bottle" and "This Guy's in Love With You."

Combined choruses of First & Sixth Hour Mixed, 63 students — "Happiness," "Born Free," "The Sound of Silence" and "Goodnight, My Someone."

Girls' Glee Club, 100 students — "Selections from 'Cabaret,'" "Day By Day," "Aquarius-Let the Sunshine In" and "Oh Mary Don't You Weep."

Advanced Mixed Chorus, 46 students — selections from "South Pacific," "Alhambra" and "Omnis Spiritus Laudet Dominum."

As the finale, First and Sixth Hour Mixed and Advanced choruses will perform "Everything Is Beautiful" and "The Lord's Prayer."

parents and teachers," Welch relates.

"The trend in education over the last decade has been to more 'progressive programs'—'liberal programs,' if you will. Just because an educational program is labeled 'progressive' does not necessarily mean it is a good one. It may not work."

"I believe our schools should teach students to achieve excellence in the basic fundamentals. In other words, teach them how to read, write and count."

"Therefore, I will work to discontinue the 'new' programs in our schools and support the new and existing programs that 'return to the old principles.'"

Welch continues, "Seventy per cent of city tax dollars go to our school system. I do not think the people are getting maximum service for the dollars spent."

"The school board has initiated spending programs and policies that are not justified—especially at a time when student enrollment has gone down and the number of teachers has gone up."

"I will work to see that no new, large spending programs are undertaken unless absolutely necessary."

"In a period of economic uncertainty, taxpayers cannot afford any less than an efficient, accountable and responsible school administration."

Welch is married to the former Kathy Zellerman and has one child.

With his son starting school next year, Welch has "a personal interest in a strong and efficient school system."

24 HOUR SERVICE

Open, efficient government urged by Secretary Howlett

The operation of a public office deserves citizens' attention more than the public image of the office-holder, Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, told the Illinois Press Association Friday night at Decatur.

Howlett was guest speaker at the association's annual spring dinner meeting. He said a public official should be as responsible as editors and reporters for keeping the public informed.

"Erich Segal, the author of 'Love Story,' made a peculiar statement," said Howlett. "He said the printed word is dying as a means of communication, and that television is replacing it."

"Yet, I believe there is too much concentration on the TV image of public officials, as persons. There is not enough attention to the operation of the public office, the day-to-day detail of what is happening."

"A public official cannot succeed in his work without cooperation of the public. It is up to him to help the public understand what he is trying to do."

As secretary of state since 1973, and as Illinois auditor of public accounts for 12 years previously, Howlett made all records in his possession available to the public.

He was given the "Goldfish Bowl Award" by the Illinois statehouse correspondents' association.

"Reporters, editorial writers and commentators appreciate candor," said Howlett. "They respect direct answers to direct questions, whether or not they agree with the answers."

"If a public officer makes an honest, open decision in a controversial issue, he can always defend it, even if subsequent events prove a different judgment could have been better."

"A mistake will be forgiven if it is corrected after it is proved to be a mistake. What can't be forgiven is an attempt to cover up a mistake."

Howlett said communications media could help unify the American people by emphasizing what citizens have in common and de-emphasizing confrontations.

"It is time for reason to enter the arena of conflict," he said — "time to march with traditional American optimism to solve our problems."

"We need to look for the good side of America. Let us take what is good and build on it something better."

Break into more schools

Vandals caused extensive damage in New Logan School, 3400 W. 25th St., and Russell Johnson School, 4285 Old Alton Road, officials reported Sunday.

The break-ins and vandalism followed by one day reports of similar vandalism inside McKinley School. All three are elementary schools.

Tennis shoe prints from two pairs of shoes were found inside the New Logan School.

Entry there was believed gained by removing a plexiglass window to the boiler room. About 10 classrooms, the gymnasium, the kitchen and the office area were entered. Teachers' desks and filing cabinets in the classrooms were ransacked.

In the gymnasium, behind the stage, numerous empty milk cartons were found on the floor and a filing cabinet was ransacked.

The kitchen was entered by breaking a wooden panel next to the door. A lock was forced from the ice cream freezer and several ice cream portions were removed.

The door to a storage pantry also was forced open and the room was ransacked with four brown on the floor.

In the office, the principal's and secretary's desks were searched. The window to the principal's office was broken.

Entry to the main office and to the 10 classrooms was gained by breaking windows next to the door locks and by reaching through to unlock the doors.

It is not known if anything was stolen and an inventory was to be conducted today.

At Johnson School, glass in the northwest door was broken.

Dedicate memorial marker on Friday

Dedication ceremonies for a Blue Star Memorial marker on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus will be held Friday, April 11, at 1:30 p.m. The memorial marker was placed beside University Drive at the southern approach to the campus by the Gardenaires Garden Club in Granite City.

The marker was erected on the campus to honor all men and women who have served or are now serving in U.S. armed forces.

Following the presentation of the marker by the Association of Collegiate Veterans (ACV) and pledge of allegiance, Mrs. Charles Kohl, president of the Gardenaires, will welcome the guests.

Many windows were broken and the contents of drawers were dumped on the floor in several areas.

A butcher knife was found inside the building. It is not known if anything was stolen.

Stanley A. Changnon Jr., head of the atmospheric sciences section of the Illinois Water Survey since 1968, will meet with the Metro Study Stormwater Technical Committee in morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday.

Both meetings, in Room 842, St. District Corps of Engineers, are open to the public.

In early March, Murray B. McPherson of Boston, director of the American Society of Civil Engineers' Urban Water Resource Research Program spoke at the committee's first meeting in the area of urban stormwater problems and opportunities, spent a day with members of the committee.

At the committee's 9:30 a.m. meeting this Wednesday, Changnon, director of the IWS Metropolitan Meteorological Experiment (Metromex), will discuss rainfall data available from the program. At 1 p.m., he will give a presentation on the concepts and operation of Metromex.

The five-year Metromex program, initiated in 1971, is investigating the effects of a large city on weather.

Stormwater groups studying rain, runoff

In its continuing effort to develop rainfall and stormwater runoff data for the metropolitan area, the St. Louis Metro Study is looking to nationally prominent experts in the field who can provide information about what is available here and what is being done in other areas of the country.

Stanley A. Changnon Jr., head of the atmospheric sciences section of the Illinois Water Survey since 1968, will meet with the Metro Study Stormwater Technical Committee in morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday.

The five-year Metromex program, initiated in 1971, is investigating the effects of a large city on weather.

In addition to accumulating data about changes in precipitation and runoff, it is measuring rainfall with 14 networks of instruments installed within a 52-mile diameter circle centered on St. Louis.

Since the stormwater committee, which includes a unique combination of engineers, planners and governing agency representatives, began meeting last November, members have been discussing the possibilities for developing a stormwater design criteria manual for the metropolitan area.

They also have reviewed various methods of planning, designing and operating stormwater management systems.

After McPherson explained some of the stormwater activities that are occurring in other parts of the country, the committee agreed that more detailed information might be needed.

Without this information, the committee members say, it is difficult to plan and design for adequate stormwater management systems.

When the committee has learned from Changnon what detailed information might be available from Metromex, it hopes to determine more about storm flow data in the area and to coordinate the two for future use in stormwater planning, design and management.

New garage never finished, Mitchell man advises county

The Madison County State's Attorney's Office is seeking legal opinions to determine whether its consumer fraud bureau should take action against a contractor who allegedly has accepted down payments from about five area residents for work, but has never completed the work.

A spokesman for the bureau said he has compiled extensive information on a man who now resides in Salem, Mo., but formerly lived in Mitchell.

It is alleged that he signed a contract with Beanie Smith of Wanda Street, Mitchell, on March 19, 1974, to construct a $4,772 garage on Smith's property.

Smith says he made a $2,000 down payment and no months later, the contractor poured some footings for the garage. No work has been done since and officials have had difficulties contacting the contractor, it is alleged.

The spokesman for the consumer bureau said he also has documented a case in which a Mitchell woman paid $400 down for a room addition to her home and the contractor placed sawhorses outside of the home but never started the work.

Prosecution of the case is being stalled by an attorney's opinion that the pouring of the footings at Smith's home, and the placement of the sawhorses at the woman's home, show that the contractor intended to do the work. Intent to commit a crime would have to be shown for criminal prosecution.

A second attorney's opinion is being sought that would allow prosecution, but no opinion has been forthcoming, although the second attorney was requested several months ago to review the case.

Smith is urging immediate action on the case and has enlisted the help of his pastor, Bill Young of New Hope Baptist Church, in helping him attract public attention and support for action to resolve the problem.

"The footings for the new garage were poured in front of the existing garage. There is such a mess that I have not been able to use my old garage," Smith told the Press-Record.

Governor's office here is closed

Gov. Daniel Walker's Action Office at Edison and Niedringhaus avenues has been closed, but those needing assistance from the state may contact the East St. Louis office toll-free at 274-3310.

A spokesman for the governor said local service is being planned on a one-day per week basis, probably at the YMCA. Details will be announced at a future date.

The "action offices" were established in many parts of the state to aid Illinois residents having difficulties in communicating with state government branches and to answer questions on Illinois government.

McKinley School burglarized

Teachers at McKinley School, Niedringhaus Avenue and Iowa Street, were to conduct an inventory today to determine what was taken during a burglary which was noticed at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Glass in a basement window on the north side of the school was broken to gain entry. Several classrooms were ransacked and the teacher's desks and filing cabinets were searched.

A lock was forced from a rear door to the principal's office and the principal's and secretary's desks were ransacked. Several padlocked storage cabinets in the basement were forced open and searched.

The only items known to be missing are two portable radios.

School officials and police also were told at 6:55 p.m. Saturday that a juvenile boy had been seen throwing a shot put against the concrete front steps at Emerson School, 20th and Benton streets. Officers found large pieces of concrete had been broken from the steps.

A witness identified a boy as a suspect and he is to be questioned by Granite City juvenile authorities today.

We believe that Our Meat Department set a new record for long distance sales. Here's what happened: A former customer now living in Houston, Texas was visiting relatives and came into the store. He bought over $100 worth of various kinds of meat. We didn't think too much of this until the people he was visiting came in the next day to tell us that they had taken the man to Lambert Field, with his meat, and the whole works departed for Houston.

Bacon prices continue high . . . You can serve Steak 'n Eggs for less money than Bacon 'n Eggs.

Water orientation for pre-schoolers

The Tri-City Area YMCA will be conducting water orientation and swim classes for pre-schoolers during the spring session, from April 14 to May 31. There will be two pre-school parent-tot water orientation classes.

The first one, for children six months to three years old, will be held on Wednesday mornings from 11 to 11:30 a.m.

The second one, for children three to five years of age, will be held on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Purpose of the class is to orient both children and their parents to the water and to water safety. Emphasis will be placed on positive experiences for the child.

In addition, a "tadpole" swimming class will be offered for pre-schoolers, four to six years old, who are accustomed to and comfortable in the water. The class will meet on Monday evenings from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

In the parent-tot class, an adult must accompany each child in the water. The tadpole class is structured so that parents will not be in the water.

Scholarship awarded for designing state's bicentennial license

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois' 1976 Bicentennial year automobile license plates will have a unique design.

The winning design was chosen from a contest which was entered by more than 40,000 Illinois grade and high school students. The contest was sponsored by Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett and the judging was done by a blue-ribbon citizens' committee.

The winning design was drawn by Kelley Jordan of Normal. A fourth grade student at Oakdale School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jordan. The 10-year-old student will receive a $1,000 scholarship grant.

Kelley's winning design, which will be displayed on Illinois automobiles throughout 1976 is red, white and blue with lateral red stripes, 13 blue stars in two arcs above and below the plate number with 1976 above the plate number and 1976 below the plate number.

The words "Land of Lincoln" and "Illinois" will be on the bottom of the plate.

A contest for schoolchildren was an idea presented earlier by Howlett. He said he thought it would be best to let schoolchildren draw the design to get them more active in their government.

Entry blanks and contest rules were distributed to public, parochial and private schools. They were offered to students starting at the first grade and going through the 12th.

Three divisions were established in which the students could compete.

The red division was for grades one through four; white, grades five through eight; and blue, grades nine through 12.

Each school principal selected the best two designs in each division from his school. In turn these winners were forwarded to Howlett's office. In all some 14,000 entries were forwarded to Howlett.

Howlett's staff narrowed them to 500 which were turned over to the committee, headed by James L. O'Keefe, a Chicago attorney.

Authorities say the contest is the first time that any state involved the public in the selection of color or design of its license plate.

Kelley explained her winning design in this manner: "When you look at the license, I want it to look meaningful and to recall past history and good news for tomorrow. The 13 stars represent the 13 original states. The 1976-1976 represents the 200th birthday of this nation's independence and the red, white and blue colors stand for the colors of our great nation."

Runner-ups were Jan Roach of Genoa and Jim Shaw of East Moline.

PROUD ARTIST: Ten-year-old Kelley Jordan shows her prize-winning design for Illinois' Bicentennial year automobile license plates to Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett. She will receive a $1,000 scholarship grant.

Public meetings on planning of highways

The District Eight office of the Illinois Department of Transportation has announced that it will be conducting a series of informational meetings throughout the district, including April 10 in Edwardsville and April 17 in Granite City.

Purpose of the meetings will be to explain a public participation program known as the "Action Plan" and to invite and encourage the general public to become involved in highway activities.

The Action Plan is to assure that transportation decisions are made in the best overall public interest, taking into consideration the need for fast, safe and efficient transportation, public service and the identification of possible adverse social, economic and environmental effects. The plan is composed of four fundamentals:

(1) IDENTIFICATION: All of the social, economic and environmental impacts a project might have on the surrounding area must be identified and thoroughly analyzed.

(2) INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM APPROACH: The services of other than engineering professions such as sociologists, economists, geologists and environmentalists are employed throughout planning and design stages of a project.

(3) INVOLVEMENT: The Action Plan is to provide a means for timely and meaningful public input into the various stages of a proposed project, early enough in the process so as to influence the technical studies and final decisions.

(4) ALTERNATIVES: Every transportation study must contain feasible alternatives, including the "No Build" alternate, and each alternate must be thoroughly and equally investigated and evaluated as to its positive and negative impacts.

A spokesman said the Department of Transportation wants "as broad a cross-sectional representation of the general public as possible to get involved in highway activities and is therefore encouraging all organizations and individuals to attend one of the regional meetings."

The meeting schedule follows:

April 9, East Alton Vital Services Building, Shamrock and Main Streets, 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

April 10, Edwardsville, Madison County Farm Bureau, 900 Hillsboro Ave., 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Vice indictment against 'Big Jen'

Jenny Huey, 41, of 1112 State St., Madison, operator of Big Jenny's Little Place tavern in Madison, was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Thursday afternoon on charges of pandering, keeping a place of prostitution and soliciting for prostitution.

She allegedly arranged a meeting between a 19-year-old woman residing in the 1100 block of State St., Madison, and an undercover Madison County sheriff's deputy June 24. She also allegedly allowed the use of her premises for the purpose of prostitution, according to the indictment.

Indicted on an armed robbery charge was Steve E. Simpson, 18, of the 2900 block of Oregon Street, and Randy R. Reyes, 17, of the 2400 block of Adams Street.

They allegedly robbed John A. Erickson, 28, Collinsville, in Erickson's home March 26.

Erickson said one youth accompanied him home from Cahokia Mounds State Park. Another youth knocked on his door and, when the door was opened, both youths allegedly jumped on him, handcuffed him and threatened him with an ice pick.

The two are charged with taking $60 cash, a $100 savings certificate, three bank passbooks, a large quantity of jewelry, seven $100 savings bonds, 10 silver dollars, an unknown quantity of coins and a saxophone.

Mark D. Harris, 17, Glen Carbon was named in an indictment charging burglary. He allegedly entered Central Hardware in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center March 13, after throwing three concrete bricks through a large front window. Police allege they found him hiding behind a door in an office in the hardware store.

All of those indicted are to be arraigned in Madison County Circuit Court at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 16.

Open house scheduled at Clark house

A public open house will be held Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. and Saturday from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. at the student-built house located at 2339 Clark Ave.

The house will be sold to the highest bidder by the Granite City Board of Education, which is reserving the right to reject any bid.

The residence, built by building trades classes of Granite City High School North and South, is 36 feet by 60 feet. It has three bedrooms, two complete baths, an L-shaped living room, a dining room and a utility room. There is no basement.

It is completely electric, including indirect lighting, and features central air conditioning with individually-controlled room temperature. The house also has wall-to-wall slag carpeting.

Any profit made from the sale of the house will be used in building a new house at 54 Bermuda Lane, a project also planned for instructional purposes.

EASTER BUNNY VISIT to St. Elizabeth Hospital is an annual tradition supported by Elks' Lodge 1063 of Granite City. The rabbit also visited two nursing care homes here. From left are Nurse Barbara Anderson holding Nanette Morrison, the Easter bunny portrayed by Joe Buscemi, Elks Exalted Ruler Harry Taylor and Elks Trustee Claude Miller.

Bunny kept busy again this year

The Easter bunny was in the Quad-City area during the holidays to make his annual visits to the pediatrics unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital and to make stops at The Colonades and at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

The bunny's annual visit is sponsored by Elks' Lodge 1063 of Granite City. At the hospital, each child was visited by the rabbit and his Pied Pipers. A basket of traditional Easter candy was presented to each child.

Several trays of Easter eggs and candy also were taken to the nursing homes by the Easter Bunny during visiting periods and relatives of the nursing home residents enjoyed an opportunity to take photographs of their loved ones with the Easter Bunny.

Lecturing Knight Joe Buscemi was the rabbit for the fifth consecutive year and the Pied Pipers were Exalted Ruler Harry Taylor, Past Exalted Ruler Don Watson, Trustees William Russell and Claude Miller, and Elks Norbert Honeyer, Jim Rush and Art Grimm.

Kay Taylor and Irma Buscemi represented the Elksettes at the holiday visits. Buscemi is the Easter bunny chairman of the Elks' Southwestern District of Illinois.

YOU'RE NEVER TOO OLD to enjoy a visit by the Easter bunny, as was shown by Bertha Bartsch during the bunny's annual visit to The Colonades. The Elks' Easter rabbit visited two nursing care homes and the pediatrics unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital during the holidays.

Past will live again in 4-week riverboat trip

SPRINGFIELD — This city is the focal point for the reenactment of a four-week trip dramatizing the river trade on the Mississippi more than 200 years ago.

The boat for the trip — a bateau — is being built right now in the Illinois Building of the State Fairgrounds. The bateau is a flat-bottomed riverboat, propelled by sails and oars, which was used in trade missions on the river two centuries ago.

The trip, in which four men and a woman will participate, is scheduled to start May 2 from St. Louis and conclude about four weeks later in New Orleans. It will be the recreation of a trade mission by the company owned by Pierre Leclerc, the founder of the city of St. Louis, Mo.

H. Dean Campbell, now studying for a masters degree at Sangamon State University, got the idea for the trip. He felt such an adventure would be in keeping with the general observance of the Bicentennial for the country. When he interested others in the project they started an historical study so that everything about the trip could be as authentic as possible. That is what brought about the construction of the bateau — the very type of craft used by Leclerc.

It took weeks to get proper plans for the boat, then, a Springfield Lumber Company provided the needed wood and carpenter apprentices, supervised by members of Carpenters Local No. 16, began construction of the craft.

Once the bateau is completed it will be transported to St. Louis and the trip will begin from there. Between St. Louis and New Orleans it will dock at nine different towns and at each of these points it will reenact the trading and bartering which took place in the 1700s when Leclerc's company was conducting regular missions. Campbell will be accompanied on the trip by Robert Turner of Danville; Jerry Schneider, a graphics design artist presently teaching drawing and ceramics at Southern Illinois University; Denis Kerasotes of Springfield, a graduate of the University of Illinois; and Judy Kleckler, a student at Sangamon State University.

On the trip, Campbell will portray Ardent Beauchamp (Beauchamp meaning Campbell). His participation in the expedition exemplifies his wide-ranging experience and involvement with conservation and study of early colonial life-styles. In 1973, he joined the Joliet-Marquette Expedition after which he published an account of the 3,000 mile journey.

Schneider will portray an early French craftsman and trader. An accomplished potter, he now is busily engaged in researching and creating replica pottery to be sold from the trade craft as it progresses down river from St. Louis. He will assume the name of Denu de Villiers. Turner will reenact the personage of Rene Kierceau, a member of the Leclerc party which founded St. Louis.

Kerasotes will play the role of the 18th century voyageur, Henri DeChene. He has read much of the material available on prominent figures of the 17th and 18th centuries and their way of life.

Miss Kleckler will accompany the expedition in the role of an early French gentlewoman, Madame Angelle Nicole Curie de Dijon, making return passage to her home and family in New Orleans. The voyage to New Orleans will take about four weeks. Between St. Louis and New Orleans they will stop at nine towns. All of the nine towns have been contacted and will be expecting them. All are preparing a festive welcome for the craft when it arrives.

Once the boat reaches New Orleans it will then be auctioned off. This also is in keeping with historical practices. The boat is flat-bottomed. It has a sail but is not a very versatile craft. To make use of the sail it requires almost a full stern wind. Without the proper wind the current is the main source of propulsion. It is almost impossible to bring the craft up stream and that is why it will be auctioned off in New Orleans.

5 hurt Monday in accident

Five persons were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where two of them were admitted following a collision at Nantoni Road and Lindell Boulevard at 1:50 p.m. Thursday, involving autos driven by Thomas M. Roach, 25, of 4720 Nantoni Road, and Jewell LeMaster, 70, of 2103 Missouri Ave.

LeMaster was admitted to the hospital with contusions to the right forearm. X-rays were taken. A passenger in the LeMaster vehicle, Jack LeMaster, 79, of the same address, also was admitted. He was treated for abrasions to his right elbow and right wrist, and for cuts to his forehead.

Roach, and two passengers in his auto, were treated and then released from the hospital. Roach suffered cuts and abrasions to the left side of his head.

Helen Roach, 22, of the same address, sustained a half-inch tear near her left eyebrow, and Bridget Roach, 16 months, had cuts to her right leg. All were x-rayed.

$420, RADIO TAKEN

A white envelope containing $420, and a citizens' band radio were stolen from the tractor-trailer cab of John Heminger, Highland, parked in the 100 block of State Street, Madison, it was reported at 9:40 p.m. Friday. Madison police on routine patrol noticed the tractor's passenger door open and the wing vent window broken.

STOP EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT

Last week ERA was introduced in the House of Representatives. The proponents claim they have the votes to pass it in the House, and that Speaker Rostenkowski will rule for a simple majority. They think they can pass ERA in the House this will put pressure on the Senate to pass it.

ERA proponents have been going to Springfield by the hundreds to pass ERA. ERA proponents are planning on having 5,000 people on April 9. Please write your Senator and Representatives immediately and tell them NOT to give in to these tactics. Tell them that the big majority of Illinois Women want them to vote NO on ERA. We are planning another big demonstration in Springfield to show our opposition to ERA on April 9 and we must have a bigger crowd than the proponents.

Please meet us in Springfield on Wednesday, April 9 at 10:00 A.M. in the Rotunda, Capitol Building. For more information, you may call Earl Lovejoy at 458-3382.

Volunteers needed, Circle told

Mrs. Irvin C. Slate Sr., coordinator of the volunteer program at St. Elizabeth Hospital, discussed the need for more volunteers at last week's meeting of Patience Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ray Ashcraft, 2300 Bern Ave. A candle lighting ceremony and a reading from the Book of Matthew preceded the program.

Mrs. Slate described the volunteer and auxiliary programs at the Granite City hospital. She stressed that should additional volunteer help not be obtained, many projects and services now available may not continue to be offered.

The meeting concluded with a workshop, with circle members continuing their bazaar project.

Those present were Mesdames Harold Rudolph, Adelbert Ambuehl, Gerald Whitmer, George Vaneiler, Glenn Wolfe, Preston Wallace, Gerald Busue, Richard Bils, Maurice Hemphill and Charles Hunsinger, members; and Mrs. Robert Ashcraft and Mrs. Regina Stickford, guests.

Luncheon for Honor Circle

Mrs. Pearl Campbell's birthday was observed during activities last week of the Honor Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The day began with a morning of quilting in the church educational building. A noon luncheon then was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Probst, 2311 Edison Ave., which was attended by 14 persons.

The luncheon table was decorated with floral centerpieces, arranged by Mrs. Lucy Weaver. Others attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Baugh, Mrs. Mildred Cundiff, Mrs. Edith Eberton, Mrs. Eva Evans, Mrs. Beulah Fox, Mrs. Augusta Pender, Mrs. Winifred Reimers, Mrs. Clara Wadlow and Mrs. Olive West.

Mrs. Fox, circle chairman, called a short business meeting following the luncheon. It was reported nine sick calls had been made during the month.

Mrs. Campbell presented the lesson from Philippians 8 and spoke on the topic "When You Have Failed," based on the book by that name by the Rev. Charles L. Allen.

Mrs. Fox closed the meeting with prayer.

Past Presidents Parley to initiate

The Past Presidents Parley of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 made plans to attend an area banquet, scheduled at 6:30 p.m. April 29 at Dupo, during the April business meeting held last week at the American Legion Home, 1825 State St.

Arrangements were completed to initiate new members April 23. Mrs. Rose Halbert was in charge and announced that Mrs. Katie Barks, Parley president, is recuperating from surgery.

Mrs. Alma Klaus gave the prayer, and the pledge to the flag was repeated in unison. Baskets of flowers and Easter eggs were used by Mrs. Doris Edwards, hostess, to decorate the refreshment tables.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Minnie Grob, Loretta Goeller, Evelyn McColgan, Edna Whaling, Esther Harris, Bonnie Jack, Ada Dishong, Ella McKittick, Carmen Toth, Rose Metro, Emma Steiner, Mrs. Klaus and Mrs. Halbert. Mrs. Hazel Odum also received a prize.

The group will hold its next session May 7.

Former actress will appear at Grace Baptist

Beverly Masseege, featured soloist of the Charles Masseege Evangelistic Team, will appear in Granite City with her evangelist husband, Charles Masseege, to conduct a "Crusade of Christ" at the Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St. The services will open Sunday, April 13, and continue through April 20.

Mrs. Masseege is a former movie actress and entertainer who traveled worldwide. Early in her career, she sang on the Grand Ole Opry, Louisiana Hayride, Cowtown Hoedown, Big "D" Jambores and other programs. She has appeared in several movies.

Her beauty and talent enabled her to achieve the Miss Texas title, but she was disqualified when it was discovered that she was young to meet contest requirements. Mrs. Masseege says, however, that "the glamour of show business does not begin to compare to the glory of God."

"My husband and I have but one desire—to tell people of the revolutionary power of God and the abundant life they can find in a right relationship with Christ."

She will be singing in the crusade services each evening at 7:30. The pastor is William L. Duvall.

MRS. MYRTLE BRUNS IS THURSDAY CLUB HOSTESS. The Thursday Evening Bunco Club met last week with Mrs. Myrtle Bruns, 2128 Cleveland Blvd.

Exciting and winning prizes were Mrs. Louise Orr, Mrs. Celeste Johnson, Mrs. Alice Koesterer and Mrs. Lorine Menzies.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to those named and to Mrs. Luella Probst, who will host the next meeting at her home, 2826 Iowa St.

Some food can be refrozen

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

Food that is safe to eat is generally safe to refreeze. However, the eating quality of the refrozen food may be impaired.

Frozen food that has thawed and has been refrozen may show changes in texture, such as drying or softening. These changes are caused by a breakdown of food cells during thawing and by repeated freezing of the water present in most food.

Obviously, you will avoid refreezing problems if you never allow frozen food to thaw except when it is to be used immediately.

But accidents do happen — power fails, or the freezer plug is accidentally pulled out of the socket.

And occasionally, a change in arrangements may mean that food thawing for dinner will not be used as planned. Therefore, it's important to know how to safely handle thawed food.

Foods which have only partially thawed and still contain ice crystals may safely be refrozen. If thawing has just begun, quality deterioration will be minimal.

Refreezing, completely thawed foods depends on three factors: the kind of food, the length of time food has been thawed, and the temperature at which it has been kept.

Foods warmed to 40 degrees F. and higher (above refrigerator temperature) are not likely to be fit for refreezing.

However, refreezing foods warmed only to refrigerator temperatures may be possible. Consider these guidelines for refreezing food that has thawed and been at refrigerator temperatures no longer than one or two days:

—Thawed fruits and fruit juice concentrates may safely be refrozen if they still smell good. Expect changes in texture of the fruit, however. When reconstituted, refrozen juice concentrate will show separation of the solid and liquid portion.

—Don't refreeze melted ice cream because the quality will be poor.

—Meats and poultry may be refrozen if there are no indications of off-odor and off-flavor. Expect some drying, due to loss of meat juices, if the meat has thawed completely. Ground meats will show more change in quality than chunk meats.

Fish and variety meats such as liver and kidney spoil more quickly than most muscle meats of beef, pork, and lamb. If the color or odor of the thawed meat is questionable, don't eat it.

—Refreezing of prepared main dish food is questionable. Such foods include cooked meats, whole meats, or combination dishes such as pot pies and casseroles. The possibility of spoilage or growth of illness-causing organisms is greater in prepared foods than in raw foods.

—Refreezing vegetables is questionable, unless they still contain ice crystals. Vegetables that have thawed completely are still safe to eat, but quality likely will be poor.

—Most baked goods may safely be refrozen, except those with cream filling. Quality of unbaked fruit-filled pie and pastries will be poor.

In general, try to use frozen food immediately after it thaws. If you follow the guidelines on refreezing and still are unsure that a thawed food is safe to eat, remember this rhyming adage: "When in doubt, throw it out."

Study group meets at Newberry home

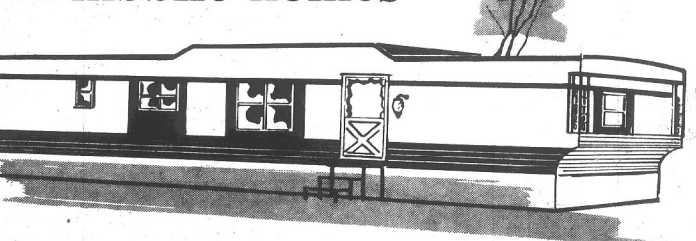

The Ruth Ford Bible Study Group of Second Baptist Church held its meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Ruby Newberry, 2800 Yale Drive.

Mrs. Mina Duggins opened the meeting and Mrs. Gladys Huggins offered prayers.

The program was presented by Mrs. Naomi Roney. Mrs. Elsie Sturdivant, Mrs. Florence Paul and Mrs. Lena Stephens. Refreshment was served by the hostess to those named and to Mesdames Myra Grote, Mildred Crismon, Alma Burnett, Louise Mitchell, Grace Lamberth, Ruth Hassler, Naomi Burnett, Goldie Smith and a guest, Minnie Cavers.

The May meeting will be with Mrs. Crismon, 2830 Illinois Ave.

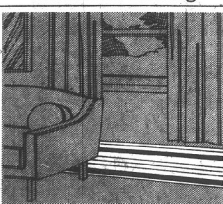

Electric Heating in mobile homes

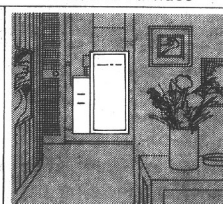

Baseboard Heating

Electric Furnace

Cove Heaters

Electric baseboards operate almost silently to provide convection and radiant heat. Controlled by individual thermostats.

Heat from electric elements is circulated through the home by a blower. Can be used with an air conditioner.

These radiant heat units are installed near the ceiling. Controlled by individual room thermostats.

Shown above are three types of electric heating systems commonly used in mobile homes.

Efficient use of space is important in a mobile home, and these electric heating units require a minimum of floor or wall space.

Cleanliness and quiet operation are other factors that lead mobile home owners to choose electric heat. Also electric heat is easy to install, requires no venting, no outside fuel supply, and needs little maintenance.

For complete information about electric heat for your mobile home or any other residence, call the Energy Use Advisor at Illinois Power Company.

Strange scandal of the million-dollar courthouse

CARLINVILLE — It looks like an Athenian temple. One of which the gods have dropped a large iron dome. It might be Carlville's biggest claim to fame. People for miles around call it the "Million Dollar Courthouse."

A few Macoupin County residents are greatly interested in the courthouse. The rest casually drive or walk by, oblivious to its imposing presence. The county employees work without paying much attention to the building itself.

The native unknown for the Macoupin County Courthouse might be the vestige of what is called by some, "the courthouse scandal." That scandal boosted the cost of the building to slightly more than a million dollars when it was built in 1870.

Thomas Ryan, a Carlville abstracter who makes his living burrowing through old courthouse records, served as secretary on a Centennial Committee in 1967. It was then that the county decided to congratulate itself for having a courthouse that had survived 100 years and seemed likely to continue through the next.

When it opened in 1870, no descriptions were written or printed about the building's color schemes or general appearance, a fact that has successfully confounded modern attempts at accurate restoration.

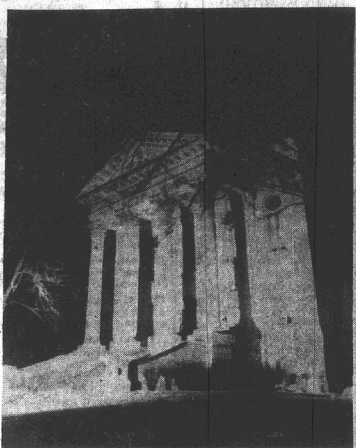

"They were so busy writing about the scandal," Ryan said, "that they forgot to tell us what it looked like."

So intense was discontent over the courthouse that when the building's architect, E. E. Myers, died in 1901 a local paper reported, "Had he lived about 14 months longer he could have said his life had been spared until the debt on the taxpayers of Macoupin County had been paid. The architect was partly responsible for the big debt we are on the eve of paying off, for no doubt the commissioners did not realize at the time what an expensive building he was planning. He saddled, with the aid of the commissioners, a courthouse on Macoupin County instead of a county courthouse."

The building is located one block away from Carlville's central square, the traditional location of previous courthouses. There situated on a full city block the structure rises 190 feet above an ancient brick street. It is a brick building faced with magnesian limestone. Frontal columns rise nearly 70 feet to support a Corinthian portico. Inside, a replica of the entrance rises above a judge's bench of imported Italian marble in the Circuit Courtroom.

The ceilings in the county offices are 16 feet high. Each office is sealed by its own one-ton cast iron door. Like Egyptian pyramids, the doors are mysterious. No one has been able to explain how they were hung, or why they have never needed repair.

Stairways to the Circuit

STATELY ENTRANCE. The Macoupin County Courthouse in Carlville boasts an impressive entrance with frontal columns rising nearly 70 feet to support a Corinthian portico. Inside (right), a replica of the entrance rises above a judge's bench of imported Italian marble in the Circuit Courtroom.

Courtroom are decorated with iron rosettes and dog wall heads snarling at each other all the way up the bannisters. The circuit clerk's office wall is decorated with an ornate Corinthian panel that surrounds a safe.

The artisans responsible for the ornate decorations remain a mystery to historians and researchers.

"If Myers had been a nice general contractor, he would have provided bills and statements," Ryan said. "They (the commissioners) turned the entire construction over to him which was a terrible, terrible mistake, but apparently that was the way he worked."

Upstairs, the Circuit Courtroom sprawls, 60 feet by 74 feet, with a parade of pillars down each side.

The judges' bench and lawyers' tables rest on a raised platform bound by an ornate iron fence. Above the court is a small rotunda decorated with scores of acorn-like ornaments. The walls and ceiling are decorated with elaborate iron and plaster decoration. The ceiling is an astounding 32 feet high.

The courtroom, despite its majesty, has its faults. Voices plunge into incomprehensibility a few feet from the bench. Two small alcoves flank the sides for no apparent reason.

"Every architect who has ever looked at them (the alcoves) had a very simple explanation," Ryan said. "They wanted the cross (the building's foundation is laid roughly in the shape of a cross) and the space was here. It's doubtful they ever had any real function because they are too big — you could put a whole jury in one of them."

The fourth floor and dome above the courtroom were never completely finished because of a lack of funds. Nobody knows what purpose they were to serve anyway.

In its present state the dome is the height of inconsistency. Iron platforms ringed with ornate bannisters cling to naked iron girders and ascend to each other by crude wooden stairs. Floorboards on the fourth floor were never installed and the walls were not plastered.

"Construction was shut down for months with no dome and no roof because they were out of money," Ryan said. "It was finished only because the state came riding to their rescue."

As the building's cost continued to skyrocket, more and more bonds were sold. Some were moot; at least two were duplicates of one another and as the financing of the building became more complex, some of the bond sales were not even recorded.

A local banker at the time of centennial examined the bond book, according to Ryan, and concluded there was no graft involved in the Courthouse construction — only ineptitude.

"If they were really trying to steal money," Ryan said, "why would they be so multi-headed as to enter duplicate bonds in the same book?"

Tree planting at future lake

Illinois Power Company has announced that tree planting has begun along the prospective shoreline of the 5,000-acre cooling lake planned for a nuclear generating station six miles east of Clinton.

The planting is along Salt Creek, one of two streams to be dammed to form the lake. A total of 100,000 trees will be planted in the project.

Trees are being planted in areas where the shoreline would be subject to wave erosion in long sweeps. Most of the planting is taking place on old fields and pastures.

Many of the trees, now about 18 inches high, will eventually stand with their roots in water, saving a costly rip-rapping project on the shoreline area.

The trees will not be adversely affected by having their feet in water because they were selected for their ability to withstand flooding, a spokesman said.

The new trees are being planted in strips 200 feet wide in rows eight feet apart. Besides reducing shoreline erosion, they will provide beauty, wildlife habitat and food for game, it was asserted.

In the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's final environmental statement issued on the Clinton plant site, it was stated that Illinois Power would be planting in fields, pastures and some farm land so that in the future there would be more timber in aggregate than would be removed for the lake.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Mon., April 7, 1975 Page 21

The trees, purchased from the Illinois Department of Conservation tree nursery in Jonesboro, include 30,000 European black alder, 20,000 sycamore, 20,000 green ash, 17,000 river birch, 17,000 bald cypress and 15,000 pin oak.

The company is working with Russell Sykes, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, on erosion control practices for the Salt Creek area and plantings that will prevent such damage on the uplands.

In the next planting season, the company plans along with the Soil Conservation District to plant Reed canary grass, which thrives on wet sites. This type of grass has dense roots and can aid in erosion prevention.

Springfield bureau—Monthly paychecks for legislators

Among the bills in the legislative hopper this session are three to change a 1907 act regulating payments of salaries to members of the General Assembly.

Currently, legislators are required to take their salaries either one year at a time at the start of each session or they can be paid for the full two years in one lump sum.

Developments, such as lawmakers being indicted, resigning or dying, have caused concern over paying of legislators a year or two in advance.

A great many people resent the fact that these people can take one or even two years' pay at the start of the new session. While the percentage who take the two-year salary at once is not large, we believe the entire advance pay practice is wrong and we support House Bill 355 and Senate Bill 31 designed to eliminate this situation.

Both the House bill, sponsored by Rep. Harold Byers, D-Highland, and the Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. Harber Hall, R-Bloomington, amend the current law to pay lawmakers strictly on a monthly basis.

A third measure, Senate Bill 207, sponsored by Sens. James Philip and Howard Mohr, would give the legislators the option of taking their salary one or two years in advance or on a monthly basis. We do not support this bill because, while it might reduce the number of legislators taking advance pay, it would not stop the practice.

When the present law regarding legislators' pay was adopted in 1907, being a legislator was very much a part-time job and the pay was $1,000 a year. At that time the only other emoluments of the office were 10 cents a mile for transportation to and from sessions and $50 a year stationery allowance.

Today, legislators get $36 a day for lodging, meals and incidental expenses in addition to a $20,000 a year salary.

Highways in Illinois don't need heavier, longer trucks

A new effort is under way in the Illinois legislature to pass legislation that would allow heavier, longer and faster trucks on state highways.

Ironically, the Illinois move comes at a time when an effort is under way in the U.S. Congress to restore lower weights for trucks which were increased in the closing hours of the past session.

The bill pending in Washington would restore allowable truck weights on Interstate highways to 73,280 pounds. The bill pending in the Illinois legislature would increase from 73,280 to 80,000 pounds maximum limits for trucks using most state highways.

It is interesting, too, that three members of the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission, which has voted 6 to 0 in favor of the higher weight limit, are under indictment in an alleged 1972 bribery scheme involving another attempt to increase truck weights.

The commission also approved bills to allow longer trucks and to permit trucks to drive 55 miles per hour on all highways. Currently they are limited to 50 m.p.h. on two-lane highways.

Ironically also, the day after the commission voted its approval of these bills the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement issued a report stating that four of every 10 trucks using Chicago expressways are carrying overweight loads. In addition to violating legal weight limits, the report stated, many trucks were found to lack required safety equipment and are operated by drivers whose licenses are invalid.

As the law stands now, the lawmaker can draw his full two-year salary of $40,000 as soon as he is sworn in. There are several important drawbacks to this method:

First, it deprives the state of the ability to earn interest from the money which it could do if the legislator were paid on a monthly basis. Instead, it allows the legislator to pick up the extra interest money.

Second, if a lawmaker dies after having received his full $40,000 salary, the money does not have to be returned. Recently, Sen. Esther Saperstein was elected to the Chicago City Council and she remains a member of the Senate. She has accepted one year's pay already, but indications are if she resigns from the Senate she will return the portion she had not earned, although she would not have to.

One of those who drew the full two-year pay within the first three weeks of taking office was Sen. Kenneth Course, D-Chicago. He is currently under federal indictment. If he were convicted, he would be forced to resign from the Senate, but unless someone attempted to retrieve his state salary, he could keep it.

State Sen. Donald Swinarski, D-Chicago, has pleaded guilty to a federal charge of filing a false income tax return in 1969 and lost his Senate seat. He already had drawn his two-year salary at the beginning of the current session. Atty. Gen. William Scott has directed his staff to recover the money.

Third, no private business or other government body that we know of allows its employees to take their full year's pay on the first day of the new year.

We feel there is no logical reason why our legislators should not be paid on a monthly basis like many other people. We hope that the Senate and House will act favorably on the bills to place the lawmakers on a monthly pay schedule.

In the light of this study it would seem that what is needed in Illinois is strong enforcement of existing laws rather than the adoption of new ones which would legally permit bigger trucks.

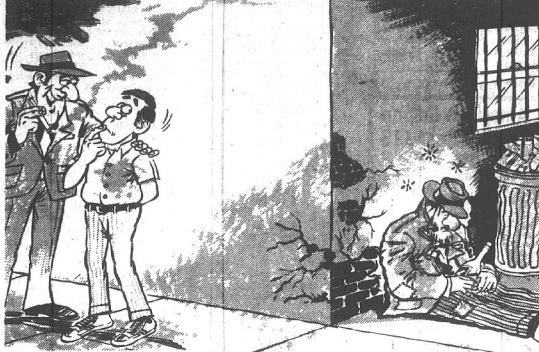

As every motorist knows, the bigger the truck and the faster it goes, the bigger safety hazard it becomes. And, it is the ceaseless pounding by thousands of trucks that causes highways to deteriorate so rapidly and to require costly maintenance.

State Sen. Charles Chew, D-Chicago, a member of the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission who has liberally stayed away from the meeting when the weight increase legislation was considered, has pledged that as chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee he will see to it that the legislation is "bottled up" in the committee.

This is encouraging. We hope that other legislators will follow Sen. Chew's lead and reject the bills. Illinois certainly does not need bigger trucks on its already badly battered highways.

Hitler's parade limousine is for sale at a reduced price of $141,000. Well, naturally there isn't much demand for those gasoline guzzlers.

A sunshine philosopher says that the things we worry about most never happen. That's if you don't worry about famine, pestilence and war.

LISTEN KID, MARIJUANA IS NO WORSE THAN ALCOHOL! Says taxpayers should organize to oppose federal deficit expenditures

Continued deficit spending by Congress will eventually create financial havoc in the United States, not to mention the worldwide effects.

The record of irresponsible spending by Congress for the past 30 to 40 years indicates that its aim may be to create just such a situation.

I am sick of "federally funded programs," and the so-called "free" programs.

The only persons who receive anything "free" from these programs are the politicians who enact the laws and the non-productive, job-dogging, career welfare recipients.

Big business benefits, but they do have to pay something for the favors they get.

I am fed up with having to see my family do without to finance programs for the benefit of politicians and the drones, and I am sicker of the waste and corruption of our elected officials. Democrats as well as Republicans.

Across the land are beginning to organize, and to realize that politicians are organized largely for the benefit of politicians, and not for the benefit of the people who pay their salaries.

The silent majority will not put up with the garbage that Congress is dishing out much longer.

We will organize a taxpayers' active and efficient police officer.

He answered many calls in our ward and always treated everyone fairly, so he knows "extra something" for our citizens not required by his job.

We have been active in community and only organizations for several years so he knows first hand, from experience, how to work with and for people.

He homes and children, which gives him a better viewpoint of some of our city's problems. He is available, which means so much, to all our residents.

I am grateful all my friends to vote a straight Village Improvement Progressive Party ticket April 15.

'Rape reform' bills studied

By MARY LOU MANNING
SPRINGFIELD—The Illinois House is considering a package of new "rape reform" bills this session.

One bill, which prohibits the exclusion of coverage for the treatment of injuries resulting from rape in accident and health insurance policies and hospital service plans, has received House approval.

Sponsored by Rep. Aaron Jaffe, D-Skokie, the legislation grew out of a study conducted by the Rape Study Committee last year. Jaffe served as chairman of that body.

The remaining eight bills would:

—Create the Rape Victims Emergency Treatment Act. This act would require hospitals to furnish emergency service to rape victims in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

If the victim is unable to pay for the service and is not eligible for medical services under Public Aid or other insurance, the DPH would reimburse the hospital.

—Appropriate $300,000 to the DPH for hospital reimbursement.

—Add medical service for rape victims to the list of medical services the DPH is authorized to provide.

—Repeal the law making it sex-neutral so that criminal homosexual assaults are included. The bill would also expand the definition of rape to include threat of force.

—Make a rape victim's sexual conduct with anyone but the accused rapist disallowable in court. Backers see this as the key measure in the package, believing this would result in more reporting and more convictions.

—Delete that part of the Criminal Code which makes it an affirmative defense in child molestation cases the fact that the "child is a prostitute."

—Requires the Illinois Department of Corrections to establish rules and regulations to protect committed persons within its institutions against acts of criminal sexual assault.

Requires the Illinois Local Government Law Enforcement Officers Training Board to include training in techniques of rape investigation.

I am sending this letter to: The President of The United States.

The Honorable Carl Albert,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Honorable Hugh Scott, Senate Minority Leader.

The Honorable Mike Mansfield, Senate Majority Leader.

The Honorable Charles Percy, United States Senate.

The Honorable Adlai E. Stevenson, United States Senate.

The Honorable Melvin Price, U.S. House of Representatives.

Also, the Washington Post, New York Times, Boston Globe, Chicago Tribune, Chicago Sun-Times, Los Angeles Times, Atlanta Constitution, Houston Chronicle, Jacksonville, Fla., Journal and other newspapers.

I would appreciate your printing my letter and the names of the public officials who received it with a request that citizens write a letter of their own to these same officials.

Following is a suggestion for letters which citizens could write to these public officials:

"As a taxpayer, I am fed up with mismanagement of public affairs and my hard-earned tax dollars. I intend to support organization of a taxpayers' union to insure that my tax dollars are used in a responsible way for the benefit of the taxpayers members of the population."

Brand plan seen as a big gamble

By KEN WATSON

SPRINGFIELD — Will Gov. Daniel Walker turn out to be another G. Mennen Williams?

Studying Walker's mammoth $10.8 billion budget there are those who foresee Illinois embarking on the same route that brought Michigan to bankruptcy during the free-spending years of the decade under Williams as governor.

During Williams' 12-year reign Michigan became a national symbol of financial irresponsibility. Payless pay-day for state employees were one result of Williams' free-wheeling fiscal policies.

When he left office after winning six successive terms Michigan's finances were in a tangle, which lingered long after Williams' departure from the Statehouse.

It was not until Republican George Romney was elected governor in 1962 that the condition began to be corrected.

Critics because he cleaned up the fiscal mess originated by Williams, Romney became a national figure and for a time it appeared he might be nominated by the Republicans for president.

Williams moved from the governorship to the U.S. Senate and during the administration of President John F. Kennedy served as assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

He had presidential ambitions, but his political career was abruptly in 1968 when he was defeated by Republican Robert Griffin in a bid to regain a Senate seat.

But during his political heyday Williams enjoyed great popularity among Michigan's voters despite his administration's sorry record in handling the state's finances.

Like Walker today, Williams had style. He was good looking, spoke well and had a pleasing personality. He had an especially strong following among Michigan's thousands of unionized auto workers and blacks.

But like Williams' Michigan, the fiscal facts of life are bound to catch up with Illinois sooner or later. The person elected governor in 1975 will have to raise taxes. But by then, perhaps, Dan Walker and Williams may have advanced to better things.

Most of the ordinary citizens did not feel themselves personally affected by the state's fiscal trouble. They generally considered Williams as a governor who got things done.

Like Williams, Walker appears to be gambling his political future on the belief that Illinois voters like those in Michigan are less concerned about the state's fiscal health than they are about such things as their own jobs and public improvements.

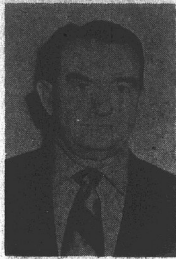

Beneath the Statehouse Dome the new Walker budget already has been labeled as one of the weirdest ones ever to be submitted to the legislature. The biggest and most obvious flaw is that it fails to spell out where the money is to come from for all of the governor's grandiose spending ideas.

Few respected students of state finance accept his contention that the bonding program is the answer to all the problems.

Walker concedes that his program will wipe out the state's financial reserves, but insists that a tax increase can be avoided.

Even top legislative Democrats are unenthusiastic about the Walker budget. Senate President Cecil A. Partee, D-Chicago, issued a low-key statement applauding the fact that Walker is not calling for a tax increase. But Partee warned that one may be needed next year if the budget is adopted as proposed.

THE CHICAGO FIRE: ITS BRIGHT SIDE

On Oct. 8, 1971, Chicago "celebrated" the 100th anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire. "Celebrate" is the proper word, for the fire brought great benefits to the city. Although the blaze destroyed more than $13,000,000 worth of stock, machinery, and products, much of the city was untouched. The stockyards, rolling mills, and 600 manufacturing plants remained, as did 79 percent of the city's grain storage. Insurance companies suffered the greatest loss, although only $96,553,720.94 of the $196,000,000 lost in the fire was covered by insurance.

Public response to the tragedy was dramatic. Almost $5,000,000 was donated for emergency relief, $900,000 of that from foreign donors. Donated books formed the basis for a new city library following authorization for tax-supported libraries passed by the General Assembly in the wake of the fire.

The fire made money for some enterprising Chicagoans. By December the Joliet Signal reported that 900 lectures were telling their thrilling tales of the fire, and 15 books on the blaze were in the works. Nails from the O'Leary barn, supposed birthplace of the fire, were offered as inducements to magazine subscribers; and "artistically reslapped" slag from debris was sold as mementoes. Other debris was pushed into Lake Michigan, thus adding to the city's valuable shore land.

Of more lasting importance, the fire stimulated a building boom, and led to serious efforts at city planning. The common council replaced 122 miles of burned wooden sidewalks with iron and stone squares covered with cement. The need for immediate relief measures led to a movement to strengthen the executive branch of city government. Joseph Medill, elected Chicago's next mayor on the "Fireproof" ticket, successfully exerted pressure on the General Assembly to pass a "Mayor's Bill" in 1872. All the while phenomenal profits were being realized by real estate dealers and by builders.

The city's fire limits extended after the fire, but the fire department itself was not updated until another disastrous fire in 1874. That fire led to the formation of a Citizens' Association that extended its activities to many phases of civic improvement. A fire underwriter's embargo of the city was lifted in 1875 with the establishment of a department of fire inspection.

The Chicago fire destroyed much of the state's largest city. In addition to the tremendous physical wealth created in rebuilding, however, it also forced city officials to deal with the realities of a true urban environment. In so doing they prepared the city to cope with the dynamic growth of the next several decades.

Judge Moran law conference speaker

Judge George J. Moran of Granite City, a judge of the Appellate Court of Illinois, Fifth District, will discuss the effect of the Buckley Amendment on education at the Ninth Annual School Law Conference scheduled for Tuesday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in the University Center. A luncheon will be served at noon.

The morning session will feature panel presentations by counselors from area elementary and secondary schools. Judge Moran will speak following the luncheon, and a question and answer period will climax the afternoon session.

Also participating is the conference program will be William Burcky of Granite City, assistant professor of counselor education at SIUE. The title of his talk will be "Setting the Stage."

George C. Ackerslund, professor of educational administration at SIUE and general chairman of the conference, explained that the Buckley Amendment, approved by Congress last year, makes records of students at all levels of education available for inspection by parents and students. The effect of the federal action is being studied by educators throughout the country.

SPEAK OUT, TAXPAYERS

By

LESTER W. BRANN, JR.
President
Illinois State
Chamber of Commerce

Now is your chance to decide how to spend $10 billion.

If it sounds like you just won the big prize on a television game show or struck it rich in the state lottery drawing, that's not the case.

This chance comes around every year at this time and part of that $10 billion is your own money.

In general terms it's called the state budgeting or appropriations process and it involves all three branches of our government. For our purposes, it starts with the submission of the Governor's state budget to the legislature. That was done March 5.

It's often said that much of any governmental budget is not discretionary — which means the money must be spent for previously-mandated programs such as welfare, school aid, roads and so on.

But that still leaves a lot of room for legislators to decide between one project and another, one new program and another, one pay increase and another, one level of school aid and another.

The General Assembly will be debating and deciding those questions between now and June 30 because our state constitution gives it the power to authorize how the state spends its funds.

In turn, your elected representatives need to know the feelings of Illinois citizens and taxpayers on how the state spends its money. They need to know whether citizens are willing to forego expanded state services in order to stave off a tax increase.

They need to know if the new programs that are proposed merit the additional money they will cost.

They need to know if Illinois citizens want projects started now through bond financing which might hold off tax increases a few years but will mandate higher taxes in the future.

They need these answers from citizens and taxpayers. So tell them — it's your chance to decide how to spend that $10 billion.

HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE. The Lee family of Venice presented an antique clock to the Venice City Council at its meeting last week. The clock formerly hung in the old First National Bank building in Madison for nearly 40 years and the chimes could be heard several blocks. The clock has been mounted on the wall of the council chambers between the pictures of the late

Dr. John E. Lee Sr., on the left, and his son Dr. John E. Lee Jr., on the right. The two men both were past presidents of the bank, and both were former mayors of the city of Venice. Admiring the clock are Mayor William M. Ebersold of Venice and Mrs. Margaret Lee, wife of the late Dr. Lee Jr.

Stabbed 9 times

Barry Pouncil, 22, of 324 Weaver St., Venice, who also has a home address in East St. Louis, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:15 a.m. Sunday with nine stab wounds. Pouncil alleged he was stabbed with a butcher knife in his Venice home. He identified an assailant, but declined to sign a complaint.

Venice police said they found blood on the floor and the furniture at his home and found five small children there who were staying overnight when the stabbings occurred.

A knife and a broken long fork, both covered with blood, were confiscated by police.

Pouncil suffered four deep wounds to his left arm, a small cut to his back and four superficial stab wounds to his face and forehead. He was in good condition when admitted.
